DALLAS (May 8, 2018) – Discover answers to the questions you should have asked about plastic surgery with famed Beverly Hills surgeon Dr. Rady Rahban on the new eye-opening Plastic Surgery: Uncensored podcast making its debut May 8, 2019 on reVolver Podcasts. Joining board certified Dr. Rahban is media personality Monique Marvez as they navigate through the blurred ethics of our look-good-at-any-cost mindset spawned by social media's concepts of beauty.

In his trademark pull-no-punches authentic and direct style, Dr. Rahban breaks down subjects surrounding what's right and what's wrong with plastic surgery today. He offers the unvarnished truth about the warning signals patients should look for as more poorly trained and unqualified doctors surface, and unregulated procedures become more mainstream. In his own practice, patients seek Dr. Rahban's help to correct the misguided and dangerous life changing choices they made putting their bodies in the hands of unscrupulous practitioners. From hearing the truth behind med spas and the taboos of plastic surgery to trends and questions you should ask in a live consultation, Dr. Rahban is on a mission to create awareness and send a powerful message.

Dr. Rahban approaches his profession with an artist's sensibility that has made him well known for his masterful work with rhinoplasty, breast augmentation, and mommy makeovers, to name a few. His reputation among thousands of patients of all ages and ethnicities has also firmly established him as the "go-to-guy" for revision and corrective surgeries.

The doctor's commitment to helping others is also evidenced by his aiding trauma and cancer patients with reconstructive surgeries. Fluent in Spanish, he travels to Latin America annually with charitable organizations like Operation Smile, performing much needed pro-bono cleft lip and palate surgeries. Monique Marvez's versatility as a writer/performer with a unique on-point humor and take-no-prisoners honesty continues to keep her in demand. Her multi-faceted career spans broadcasting with three SHOWTIME specials and as a radio host, as well as successful tours with her critically acclaimed one-woman stand-up stage show and a soon to be published book.
